Report on

Faculty Orientation on "Counselling Techniques"

A 1- Day Program was organised by the IQAC at Vignan's Institute of Engineering For Women, Visakhapatnam on 04th December, 2017.

The resource persons have suggested the faculty to refer particular cases that are to be referred to trained counsellors so that timely help can be provided to the students. They have also clarified many of the doubts that the faculty members raised regarding identifying students.

Program Team:

Resource Person: Dr.Poosapati Padmaja,

Professor, Dept. of IT, ANITS, VSP

Patron: Dr J. Sudhakar, Principal

Convener: Dr Akansha Mishra, Co-ordinator, IQAC

Number of Participants:32 Members (22- Faculty, 10- Students)

Resource Person Overview:

Dr. Poosapati Padmaja, Professor, Dept. of IT, ANITS. Guidance and counselling have come to play a significant role in the field of education. Guidance, in simple terms means, to direct or provide assistance to someone who needs help. Counselling refers to professional services provided to an individual who is facing a problem and needs help to overcome the problem. Counselling is considered to be an integral and central part of guidance.

Guidance and counselling is oriented to helping students understand themselves, become self-sufficient in making realistic and positive selections and grow in human relationships and concerns. Guidance, hence, should prepare students for adult life as well as help them acquire appropriate attitudes and values that facilitate them to become productive and dynamic members of their communities. Primarily, the guidance programme should help young people and children to develop a positive self-image and a sense of identity, create a set of beliefs and a value system that will guide their behaviour and actions.

About the Program:

The programme began with opening remarks by Dr. Poosapati Padmaja, Professor, Dept. of IT, ANITS who spoke about the significance of the programme. Further the resource persons oriented the faculty members on various ways of identifying the students and their needs for counselling. The faculty members were given guidance on rapport building which is very important factor in counselling process.

They also outlined the symptoms that can be identified among the students as the faculty members interact with the students. The resource persons have explained about inter and intra personal communications that need to be developed to understand the basic problems of the students.

They have explained the faculty responsibility towards student well-being and providing services collaboratively with compassion, respect, and sensitivity to students' unique challenges. They stressed the importance of confidentiality that needs to be maintained for counselling and mentoring students who share their functional problems.

The resource persons have suggested the faculty to refer particular cases that are to be referred to trained counsellors so that timely help can be provided to the students. They have also clarified many of the doubts that the faculty members raised regarding identifying students.
