Awareness Program on Higher Education

In today's times, International education is an essential pillar of competitiveness. Aiding to gain exposure to new cultures and ideas, stimulating innovation and developing important cross-cultural competencies the institute aims to:

- Encourage students to gain new skills needed for pursuing higher education abroad.
- Help students to identify the countries from which they can pursue international education, the fields, levels of study, programs or courses to choose from and universities that best suit their profiles and resources.
